Tiny the Turtle

Jemima was a new mum. She had buried all her eggs in a great spot and then waited...

She kept her eye on the her spot for the next 60 days!

Night fell as her brood began to emerge and make their way into the sea, off they went swimming, all except one!

Tiny stood at the edge (she was scared) Jemima approached "come on Tiny, in you get"

Tiny just stood, she just couldn't do it.

Jemima, now by Tiny's, side said "Okay Tiny, let's just wash out faces!"
Tiny dipped her legs in and splashed her face.
"EXCELLENT" said Jemima "Lets do it together".

Jemima then said, "right Tiny, can you blow some bubbles?"

Tiny puckered up her mouth, put her lips in and blew out making lots of bubbles. "Now lets do it together!"

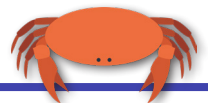

"EXCELLENT" said Jemima.

Now lets put our whole face in.
Tiny held her breath and dipped her face in!

"Now lets do it together" "EXCELLENT" said Jemima.

Now we are ready! They entered the water and swam off into the sea together.
